

Family, School, and Community Partnerships:

A Brief Introduction

Just as a space launch relies on a team of people working together to plan and complete a mission, families, schools, and communities can work together to launch children’s learning. Like a team at “mission control,” families, schools, and communities need to engage with each other to plan, implement, and complete their shared mission for children’s success. Regular, reliable communication and engagement by everyone involved helps learning take off, helping children to reach their goals (Frameworks Institute, 2024).

The Why

Strong partnerships between schools and families:

Boost student grades

Improve teacher retention

Promote better attendance

The How

Follow a Framework.

Form a Team.

Make and Implement a Plan.

Evaluate the Outcomes.

For additional information and resources, visit the Colorado Department of Education’s Office of Family, School, and Community Partnerships website.