Recommendations

The Talent Pipeline Report explores issues related to the supply and demand of talent in Colorado and strategies for strengthening our talent pipeline.

2018

Demand - What we need

Supply - What we have

Strategies - How we will close the gap

THE BIG PICTURE

Out with the Old

- Federal funding gone
- Life extended for the CIC platform; communications sent
- Work over the past year and one half
 - Raising philanthropic funding (keep platform free to users)
 - Building the multi-agency partnership
 - Releasing Request for Proposal
 - Finalizing conceptual design and contracting
- ICAP support by the time CIC went dark was not accomplished
- Much fuller functionality will be available by December and ultimately will offer many outstanding features that CIC.org was not able to provide.

How do I get started as a teacher or counselor on My Colorado Journey?

1 month ago · Updated

Getting set up with your My Colorado Journey account and connected with your students is quick and easy. Begin by going to mycoloradojourney.com. Here, click "Create My Account".

You'll enter your basic information, confirm your email address and set your password. For full directions, check out this article.

Once your account is created, you'll be asked if you would like to import your existing data from College in Colorado. Select the option you prefer. You'll be asked your role (Educator) and what organization you are associated with (your school). Once you have selected your role as Educator and your organization, a request will be sent for approval.

Requests are approved within 3 business days, after which time you will see the Professional Center tab at the top of your My Colorado Journey screen. You will receive a confirmation email when you have been approved as a Professional.

Education

Educating All

Education jobs exist throughout the state - in cities and towns, in homes and at schools, and at hundreds of post-secondary institutions that all together educate over 1.5 million Coloradans each year!

Rewarding Careers:

Helping young children in their most formative years through helping young adults master the skills they need in life and a career - Education is one of the most important, rewarding, and challenging careers you can have.

Variety:

Teaching jobs - there are a wide variety of them, but don't forget about Administrator, Student Affairs, Librarian, Counselor, Coaching, and district and state leadership jobs as well!

Multiple pathways:

There are many jobs for those with at least a Bachelor's degree, but there are also jobs for students to work in child care or after school programs, parents to work at home with their children by their side, and for experts from other industries that are looking to switch careers.

Find your career pathway

Make smart choices about your education - choose a pathway that gives you skills that are in demand! Colorado has many education options to start you on the way to a career in Education.

K-12 Education

There are around 900,000 K-12 students in Colorado. Helping them master the skills they need in life and a career is one of the most important, rewarding, and challenging careers you can choose.

GO

Early Childhood Education

Early Childhood workers help young minds develop in their most formative years! The challenge and outcomes can be very rewarding.

GO

Postsecondary Education

The pathways for these jobs can begin while you are a student at a college or university. If you are interested in a potential career and want to earn while you learn, get a job as a Student Assistant.
